This program will prepare students for an entry-level position in the addiction treatment and recovery field. Completing the coursework for this program will prepare students for certification as a Certified Addiction Treatment Counselor (CATC). The Program is accredited by the California Alcohol and Drug Education (CAADE). Students interested in state-level certification will need to pass a state examination. The program's coursework can also assist career advancement for those already employed in occupations related to addiction counseling and treatments. Students may also learn the skills and knowledge necessary to transfer to upper division programs in social work, psychology, or human services.

- Demonstrate the ability to attain the Institutional Student Learning Outcomes (ISLOs).
- Develop a psychosocial treatment plan for a client.
- Demonstrate knowledge of key theories and approaches underlying human services intervention and prevention models for diverse populations with drug use disorders.

This degree requires the completion of General Education coursework plus the following:
