

Plan Code: 2902

This field of concentration is designed to provide foundational knowledge of the practice of interior design with the option of maximizing the number of lower division transfer units. This Associate Degree will prepare students for an interior design-related career, and appropriate course

